Nowadays ~~the~~ generation is immediately changing. People are opening new interests for them. Students are still spending much time ~~at~~ university, but their daily routine is also changing. We have 2 hours charts, that we are going to look through.

First of all we can see some differences in sleeping. In 2014 teenagers ~~payed~~^{paid} more time. The other thing we can manage is daily educational activities. In 2014 students did more studying. I guess, it depends on more sleeping. When people are tired, they can't doing well. There are also some nice news. In 2015 students do much more sport than in 2014. It is quite good for health. Students started doing working and related activities a bit longer, they also try travelling more. Maybe it is because nowadays travelling is easier, than a year before. What about food? They are spending 2 hours instead of 1 in 2015. It shows, students are carrying on their health. Also these charts shows that in 2014 students spent 2,3 hours on doing another activities. I think, it is like doing hobbies or just doing nothing. In 2015 they spendt even 30 minutes on these per day. For me it isn't enough.

All in all the information gives us unexpectiable results. In 2015 students started to be interested in their own life. They are doing more sport, they want to see the world, so they travel more. I guess, this difference will be good for our generation.
