Nowadays, lot of parents are concerned about their children who spend their time just fooling around and do not try to do something useful. They say that today's students are not interested in taking up any hobby or doing extracurricular activities. But is it so? We did an investigation and collected some information to find out.

60
According to our data, the most popular past time for both 2014 and 2015 is sleeping. Most of USA's students say that after school or university they feel exhausted and emotionally drained so all they can do is just lay on the bed. However, many students enjoy taking up active hobbies so they spend their free time mostly on leisure, sports and travelling. Plenty of students choose to spend the time after studying on working or doing some related to it activities in order to earn some extra money or to get some new experience. On the other hand, the number of teenagers who care about their future and do educational activities after school has reduced in 2015. The popularity of going out to eat or drink catches on in 2015, but grooming became less popular. Also, some teenagers choose to do some other activities like surfing the Internet, watching movies and so on. 210

To sum up, our investigation has shown us that there is still a huge variety of hobbies and activities for students in USA nowadays. Even though some of them choose to do nothing after studies, the biggest group is still interested in lot of things.
